OUR HISTORY

SIAT was established in Genoa in 1967 as insurance company specialized in Marine Insurance by a joint venture between a top Italian industrial group and some leading shipowners. From the first years it begins to expand its business abroad, in particular in European countries with the target to set up a leader company specialized in maritime and shipping industry.

In this way the Company develops a significant international experience and vocation.

SIAT TODAY

SIAT is a company specialized in marine, transport and aviation insurance providing comprehensive, innovative and tailored insurance solutions. SIAT has an agile, streamlined and adaptable structure, highly dedicated and specifically focused on management and development of core business.

This innovative service allows us to provide insurance solutions to customers worldwide.

All this is possible thanks to continuous investments and actions focused on technologies and training, in synergy with Unipol Group.

SIAT values young people and is engaged in developing specialized skills and know-how. This is why SIAT promotes a dedicated Master on marine and transport insurance.

SIAT, as part of Unipol Group, holds a sound and capital position for all players of this highly specialized market.
